

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

Interdisciplinary Professional Programs
 Maintenance and Reliability Management Certificate

432 North Lake Street

Madison, WI 53706

joelke@wisc.edu

interpro.wisc.edu/mrm

Maintenance and Reliability Management Courses*

September 2021 - June 2022

Updated June 15, 2021

Due to COVID-related policies, all Fall 2021 classes will be delivered live online using Zoom. Tentatively, 2022 classes will be delivered in-person.

Courses	Sept	Oct	Nov	Dec	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June
Developing a High-Performance Maintenance and Reliability Organization (formerly MM101)		C331 4-5				TBD
Root-Cause Analysis Tools for Maintenance Professionals				C337 8-9
Planning and Scheduling Maintenance Operations		C332 6-7				TBD
CMMS Setup and Utilization				C338 6-7
Reliability-Centered and other Maint Mgmt Best Practices (Formerly RCM)		C295 12-15					TBD
Effectively Managing Your Maintenance Team			C334 1-2
Predictive Maintenance Technologies and Utilization							TBD
Using FMEA and RCM to Reduce Equipment Failures							TBD
Preventive Maintenance Optimization								TBD
Improving Equipment Uptime and Performance with TPM			C335 8-9
MRO Inventory Management			C336 10-11
Asset Strategy Development									TBD
Lean, Six Sigma, and Maintenance Best Practices									TBD
Using TPEM to Improve Total Productive Maintenance Performance
Multi-Week Online Courses	Sept	Oct	Nov	Dec	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June
Preventive Maintenance Optimization
5S Visual Workplace

*You may register or obtain information for all courses at epd.wisc.edu/mrm

To earn the Maintenance and Reliability Management Certificate, complete Reliability-Centered and Other Maintenance Management Best Practices, plus four other courses. Courses may be taken individually, without an obligation to completing the certificate.